1. Chlorophyll a (Chl a) and Chlorophyll b (Chl b) are the two main photosynthetic pigments in green plants. They are responsible for capturing light energy and converting it into chemical energy through the process of photosynthesis. Chl a is the primary pigment, while Chl b acts as an accessory pigment, transferring energy to Chl a.

1. The first step is to identify the problem or question that needs to be answered. This involves understanding the context and the specific requirements of the task.

1. The first group of authors (e.g., [1, 2]) has shown that the use of a single, common, and simple model for the entire system is not only possible but also useful. This approach is based on the assumption that the system is a single, unified entity, and its behavior can be described by a single set of equations. This approach is often used in the analysis of simple systems, such as mechanical systems, electrical circuits, and control systems.
